INTERIOR DESIGN

With all the attention that you've given to interior design programs on television have you considered a career yourself in this creative and exciting occupation?

As an interior designer, you're responsible for combining knowledge of building codes, critical and creative thinking, communication and technology for the purpose of improving the quality of life, increasing productivity, and protecting the health, safety and welfare of the public. This degree program prepares you for careers in the creation of safe, functional, and aesthetically pleasing interior environments for residential and commercial settings.

Ivy Tech's Interior Design program includes fundamental design concepts combined with technology-based presentation methods providing graduates with necessary skills for entry level careers such as draftsman, facilities planner, interior designer/decorator, space planner.

The Associate of Science Degree in Interior Design has many seamless transfer opportunities to other state wide institutions of higher learning.

We now offer a short-term Career Development Certificate in Space Planning.

For information about the Interior Design Program, please contact Bekir Kelceoglu at (812) 374-5148 or bkcelceoglu@ivytech.edu.
