POLICY NUMBER
ASOM 7.14

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY
Office of Academic Affairs

CREATION / REVISION / EFFECTIVE DATES
Created September 2009/Effective Fall 2010/Revised Fall 2012; revised October 2017/effective immediately

PURPOSE
The purpose of the college wide faculty awards program is to recognize Ivy Tech Community College of Indiana’s adjunct faculty members who best typify excellence in instruction.

ORGANIZATIONAL SCOPE OR AUDIENCE
Adjunct faculty eligibility:
- Nominees must be adjunct/part-time faculty members whose principal tasks involve direct instructional activities with students.
- Nominees must meet credentialing requirements.
- Nominees must be a campus recipient of that year’s Adjunct Faculty Award in order to be eligible for the Gerald I. Lamkin Award.
- Past recipients of the Adjunct Faculty Award for Excellence in Instruction are eligible for re-nomination.
- Past recipients of the Gerald I. Lamkin Award for Excellence in Instruction are not eligible for re-nomination.

DEFINITIONS
Credentialing requirement: An objective evaluation and documentation of a person’s current licensure or degree; training or experience; competence or certification, and the ability to meet a nationally accepted standard.

POLICY
The college wide adjunct faculty awards program consists of two types of awards: the Adjunct Faculty Award for Excellence in Instruction and the Gerald I. Lamkin Award for Excellence in Instruction. The nineteen recipients of the Adjunct Faculty Award form the pool of candidates from which the recipient of the Gerald I. Lamkin Award is selected.
The Adjunct Faculty Award for Excellence in Instruction is presented annually to an adjunct faculty member from each of the nineteen campuses of the College and is an effort to recognize adjunct faculty who typify excellence in instruction and in representing the mission of Ivy Tech. This award consists of a commemorative plaque, a professional development grant in the amount of $250.00.

The Gerald I. Lamkin Award for Excellence in Instruction is presented annually to an adjunct faculty member of the College who best typifies excellence in instruction. The intent of this award is to recognize one adjunct faculty member annually who epitomizes the mission of Ivy Tech. This award consists of a commemorative medallion, a minimum after-tax award of $250.00, and a $500.00 professional development grant.

PROCEDURE
The process of selecting the recipient of the Adjunct Faculty Award is determined by each campus. Each of the nominations submitted by the nineteen campuses is reviewed by the Gerald I. Lamkin Screening Committee appointed by the President. This committee has the responsibility of rating each nominee for the award. The results of the Screening Committee are reported to the President for review and endorsement.

Selection Criteria
The basic criterion for selecting recipients for both awards is demonstrated excellence in instruction. Excellence in teaching performance is demonstrated by the following required qualities:
1. Competence in subject matter;
2. Mastery and application of the methods and techniques of excellence in instruction;
3. Innovation, resourcefulness, imagination, ingenuity, motivation, enthusiasm, and creativeness;
4. Use of continuous evaluation;
5. Ability to develop and to retain good personal relationships;
6. Desire to grow and improve as an instructor;

An excellent teacher’s impact on students may be identified by the following optional criteria:
1. High levels of knowledge, skills, and attitudes acquired by students as a result of the teaching effort;
2. Reputation for excellence in instruction;
3. Incorporation of opportunities for student participation in community service;
4. Active cooperation with peer instructors and administrators.
