

PROGRAM COMPETENCIES that support the General Outcomes

1. General awareness of the agricultural industry and career opportunities within the United States and worldwide.
2. Be a proficient user of current technology equipment and applications used within the agricultural industry.
3. Identify basic economic principals used in the production, marketing, and solving of business management problems within the food and agricultural business sectors.
4. Describe aspects of United States agricultural production.
5. Understanding the importance of soils and their relationship to people and food production.
6. Engage in communication and relationship building significant to agricultural business interactions.
7. Demonstrate correct use of specific management tools which measure performance and improve decision making within an agribusiness firm.
8. Demonstrate engagement with agricultural industry.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Agriculture Program mission and purpose is to provide its students with educational experiences that will provide a framework from which they can pursue a career in the agricultural industry as well as skills for a possible placement or continuation of their educational goals.