HONORARY DEGREES

As Associate Professor and Dean of the Lee J. Marchant School of Nursing, Pam Thompson has grown the college’s capacity to train nurses both on campus and at clinical sites. She led the nursing program through the acquisition and preparation of the Marchant School building that opened to students in the summer of 2014. The School is equipped with state-of-the-art, high-fidelity simulation labs that prepare nurses for work in the field.

Since Pam began leading the program in 2010, the School of Nursing has grown from accepting and training 120 nurses each academic year to 160. Under Pam’s leadership, the program has graduated hundreds of nurses, many of which secure full-time employment before graduation. This is a significant achievement because Ivy Tech graduates choose to live and work in our communities.

With Pam at the helm, Ivy Tech’s nursing program has maintained its distinguished reputation of graduating students on time and with above average National Council Licensure Exam (NCLEX) pass rates. In fact, Ivy Tech Bloomington’s LPN program was ranked number one in the state in 2020 by PracticalNursing.org.

Prior to her role as Dean, she served as program chair for the Associate of Science in Nursing program and as faculty for the School of Nursing. Pam has served students for 30 years at Ivy Tech Community College.

She is currently an active member of Kappa Kappa Kappa, a local philanthropic organization. She serves on the board of directors for the local Council of Women and the Ellettsville Counsel for Youth.

Pam earned her bachelor’s degree in nursing at Morningside College and her master’s in nursing at the University of Southern Indiana. She is married to Chuck Thompson, and they have 2 children and 3 grandchildren.

Bruce Calloway has a passion for education. Both on a personal level and as the south-central Indiana district manager for Duke Energy, he has been able to positively impact students, faculty and schools in the communities he serves for over 15 years. At the forefront of this support is his advocacy for Ivy Tech’s Bloomington campus.

Bruce is known for leading by example. As a vocal advocate for Ivy Tech, he has inspired others throughout the community to lend their voice, and often their treasure, to benefit of the college. Under his leadership, Duke Energy has likewise become a mainstay in its support of the Bloomington campus.

This 41-year veteran of the electric utility industry also shares his volunteer time and talents with multiple nonprofit groups, including economic development organizations, community foundations and social service agencies. He is an avid golfer and a fan of all Indiana University sports, Indianapolis Colts and Indiana Pacers.

Ivy Tech ties run deep with Bruce and his family: His son Nash graduated from the college in 2013, and his daughter Abby will graduate this spring with her degree in radiation therapy. He and his wife Joey have been married for 39 years and enjoy spending time with their three grandchildren, Taytum, Tadleigh and Traycen.
COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY ATTIRE

The colorful attire worn by the graduates, the faculty and officers of colleges and universities on the occasion of these Commencement Ceremonies has historic roots in medieval times.

Because medieval students enjoyed the status of clerics during their university years, one is hardly far wrong in asserting that their attire found its inspiration in the clerical dress of medieval times. The gown seems to be an adaptation of the robe of a friar or priest; the hood, of the monk's or friar's cowl; and the mortarboard cap of today, the end product of curious evolution, recalls the skull cap of days when tonsured heads needed protection against the drafts of medieval classrooms.

THE GOWN

The gowns are three in number and styling. That of the bachelor is a yoked, closed-front garment, with long pointed sleeves; that of the master is cut to worn open front, its sleeves are long and closed, slit cut just above the elbow to allow the forearm to protrude; the gown of the doctor is also worn open and has full bell-shaped sleeves. Only the doctor's gown is trimmed with velvet panel down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Though black velvet is proper trimming for all doctor gowns, the color and material of the panels and sleeve bars is often varied in order to indicate the faculty which granted the wearer's degree: dark blue for Philosophy (PhD); light blue for Education (EdD); white for Arts and Letters (LittD); gold-yellow for Science (SCD); orange for Engineering (EngD); purple for Law (LLD, DC, JD, JUD, JCD); green for Medicine (MD); scarlet for Theology (STD, DD).

THE HOOD

Each degree (bachelor, master and doctor) has a right to a hood, which varies in length and, in the case of the doctor's, also in pattern. The bachelor's hood is three feet long; the master's hood, three and one-half; the doctor's hood, four, with wide panels on either side.

The color, or colors, with which the hood is lined, is those of the college or university which granted the wearer's degree. The colors follow the same schedule indicated above for the panels of the doctor's gown – pale blue for Education, white for Arts, gold-yellow for Science, drab for Business, salmon for Public Health and Hospital Services, sage green for Health Systems Leadership, apricot for Nursing, peacock blue for Public Administration, rose for Social Science and so forth.

THE CAP

The mortarboard has become the universally accepted style in United States colleges and universities. The doctor, following graduation, has the right to wear a gold tassel on the mortarboard; black, however, is more common.
Ivy Tech recognizes students for outstanding academic achievements. Academic program chairs choose one Outstanding Student Award recipient in each program area, for each degree designation (Associate of Science and Associate of Applied Science). Outstanding Student Award recipients are so designated beneath their names.
