

New northwest entrance

↓ HERE WE Y GROW AGAIN!

IVY TECH-BLOOMINGTON | EST. 2001

HERE WE GROW AGAIN! is a $4 million capital campaign to support the construction of Ivy Tech Community College-Bloomington's 90,000 square foot building expansion. With new state-of-the-art computer, science, and culinary labs, music and art classrooms, and emerging technology spaces, we have the opportunity to support student learning and invest in the future of our communities.

OUR EXPANSION AND RENOVATIONS WILL INCLUDE:

- 21 new classrooms, including dedicated spaces for paramedic science, kinesiology, music and fine arts
- 13 new science and technology labs to serve life and physical sciences, computing and informatics
- multi-purpose 400-seat lecture hall for academic, campus life, and community use
- expanded state-of-the-art technologies to serve Radiation Therapy, Respiratory Care and Nursing
- dedicated space for emerging technologies and opportunities to engage with business and industry to serve those areas important to our community, including defense, life sciences, energy, arts, design, entrepreneurship, service learning, and globalization
- permanent home for Hospitality, Culinary, and Baking and Pastry programs
- expanded Olcott Library, Hoosier Times Student Commons, and Bloomingfoods Market and Cafe
- expanded Workforce Certification Center to serve students and industry partners
- Express Enrollment Center, enhancing student access to registration, advising and financial aid
- more than 500 new parking spaces in 3 new lots

New outdoor café seating area

New lecture hall

HERE WE GROW AGAIN! LEADERSHIP

CHANCELLOR: Jennifer A. Vaughan

CHAIR: Connie Ferguson

HONORARY CO-CHAIRS:

Lee J. Marchant, President, LJM Enterprises

Joyce Poling, Former Monroe County Commissioner

Linda Whitehart, Retired Educator

John Whitehart, Chancellor Emeritus, Ivy Tech Community College-Bloomington

STAFF SUPPORT:

Susie Graham, Executive Director of Development
sgraham31@ivytech.edu; 812-330-6067