Question: How do I enroll in the Emergency Medical Technician – Basic Course?
Answer: Follow these steps:

- Enroll as an Ivy Tech student
- Take the Accuplacer assessment test at the Learning Resource Center.
  (If you are transferring from another College/University, official transcripts must be furnished to the registrar.)
- Schedule and attend a new student orientation with student services.
  Phone 765-459-0561 and ask to be connected to student services.
- After attending the student services orientation, make an appointment with the Paramedic Science Program Chair at the Health Sciences building at 700 E. Firmin St. — Phone 765-457-0858. Prospective students must fill out an application for a PSID number. Until this is accomplished no official registration can take place. Do not duplicate a PSID number if you already have one.
- Fill out an application and pick up physical exam, shot records, background checks, and immunization forms.
- Attend the MANDATORY programmatic orientation.
- Information on uniforms and required equipment will be furnished at the program orientation.
- Obtain certification in CPR, as an American Heart Association (or equivalent) Health Care Provider.
- Pay your fees at the business office. If applying for financial aid the sooner you start the process the better.
- Purchase textbooks at the bookstore.
- Bring all materials requested to the Health Sciences secretary prior to the first day of class.
