THE MELVIN L. CURTIS AWARD FOR ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Melvin L. Curtis Award for Academic Excellence is the highest award presented to an Ivy Tech Community College graduate in northeast Indiana. This award is presented annually at Fort Wayne's commencement to graduates who have demonstrated outstanding achievement. The award is named to honor Melvin "Bud" Curtis. He was one of the seven individuals who, in 1968, formed the original Board of Trustees for Ivy Tech in northeast Indiana. He served on the board until 1988, when he retired as board chair. Curtis passed away on Feb. 8, 2012, in Coldwater, Michigan.

DIANE LEWIS

Diane Lewis has taught at Ivy Tech Fort Wayne for 22 years, first as an adjunct and for the last 11 years full-time as the life science department chair. Diane has taught microbiology, introductory biology, general biology, anatomy & physiology, and the introduction to scientific research classes at Ivy Tech. Previously, Diane taught high school biology and chemistry in addition to serving as a high school assistant principal and interim principal. She also taught science classes at the Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing. Diane's bachelor's degree is in biology and chemistry with an education minor. She also worked in biochemical research and completed her master's thesis in biology while working at this research lab. Fun fact, this lab was in the basement of Harshman Hall when it was a part of the Fort Wayne Developmental Center. Diane obtained another Master of Science, this time in secondary administration and supervision. Diane is married with three adult children and two grandchildren. Her hobbies include swimming, running, reading, and gardening.
