

I.PASS

Ivy Parents Achieve Success with Support (I.PASS) is a new initiative at Ivy Tech Anderson to help support single parents in earning workforce-ready certifications and associates degrees. The program provides single parents with connections to community programs, mentors in the Ivy Tech community and additional support through meetings.

Judicial and Title IX - AWARE Team

JUDICIAL & TITLE IX

Reporting concerns and incidents to college officials is beneficial to our students and employees' success and safety.

Why make a report?

- Early intervention is critical to ensure that students remain successful academically and otherwise
- Connecting students to appropriate people on campus promotes health and safety within our Ivy Tech community
- We care enough to get the student the support they need
- It might be required to report acts of violence and other threatening behaviors as required by the Clery Act

Types of reports:

- Behavior, Concerning, Worrisome, or Threatening
- Personal Misconduct
- Academic Integrity Violation or Concern
- Physical Accident, Injury, or Illness
- Accessibility Concerns
- Complaints
- Title IX

All reporting types can be found in MyIvy under Incident Reporting.

COUNSELING SERVICES

Our onsite Mental Health Counselor, Hallie McWilliams, specializes in helping individuals navigate anxiety, depression, trauma, and self-esteem issues. Hallie provides free one-on-one counseling sessions, group sessions, and wellness activities.

ACCOMMODATIONS

If you have a documented physical, medical, psychological, hearing, visual, ADHD, ADD, or learning disability, please seek accommodation support services.

What is required for accommodations:

1. Documentation - make sure you have appropriate supporting documentation from a licensed professional on letterhead
2. Intake Consultation - Schedule an appointment to discuss the details of your accommodation needs
3. Accommodation Letter - Sign the letter and discuss accommodations with your instructor each semester

Points to remember about accommodations:

- They do not transfer from high school
- They are not retroactive once the semester starts
- They need to be requested prior to each semester
- They encourage the highest level of academic and personal achievement

AWARE TEAM

When a student has behavior, concerning, worrisome, or threatening situations arise we have a team that can assist. AWARE Team is trained to:

- Educate the campus community in reporting incidents
- Provide support to faculty, staff, and students who are assisting students who behave in concerning or disruptive ways
- Serve as a central point of contact for reviewing reports
- Identify patterns of behavior that might suggest intervention needs
- Assess potential threats and risks
- Support student with campus and community resources
